Day by day 5 years has passed since God called you away, and day by day we miss you more than words could every say.
Nothing in the world could ever have left us. We miss your voice smile and tender care. Loving memories never die as days roll on and years go by. Deep in our hearts those memories are kept, for the one we loved and will never forget.

Teresea Eperton Celebrates Birthday

Teresea Eperton celebrated her 11th birthday Sunday, January 28th, with a party at Skateworld in Appomattox. Attending were Eddie Everton, Denton Everton, E. J. Carter, Judy Doss, Brenda Wright, Hope Wright, Rhonda Morgan, Traci Paulette, Sherry Vassar, Cathy Falero, Nickie Falero, and Benny Beasley. All had a really good time.

House of Delegates Comments

By Claude W. Anderson

Restrictions on oil producers and refiners, restrictions on the sale of beer, the ERA passage and further regulation of bingo seem to be the issues attracting the most attention at this year's "short" session of the Virginia General Assembly at the State Capitol.

These issues are among 1,446 pieces of legislation which were introduced for consideration during the session. Although this seems to be quite a large number to consider, it is actually much lower than anticipated. Monday, January 15, was the deadline for requesting the drafting of bills and Legislative Services received more than 2,000 such requests. Therefore, the legislators exercised more restraint than was expected in introducing legislation. One controversial bill was House Bill 458 which prohibits oil producers and refiners from expanding their ownership of service stations. The object of this bill is to prevent the large oil companies from squeezing the independent service station owner out of business. It does not require them to sell their present stations but merely restricts their acquisition of new ones. The bill passed the House by a 2 to 1 margin and now is in the Senate General laws Committee.

A rather short lived headline grabber was House Bill 387 which raised the legal age for drinking full-strength beer in Virginia from 18 to 19. It was defeated by the House with a 52-44 vote. The bill had been amended several times but failed because no version proved feasible to enforce. The original purpose of the bill was to keep alcohol out of the high school.

Bingo reform has gotten much attention and promises many headaches before its completion. The House General Laws Committee held a two-hour public hearing on proposed provisions to the state's bingo laws but then postponed committee vote while multiple amendments are considered. The controversial legislation limited "bingo" to 3 nights a week at any one location and to 2 nights a week by any one charitable organization. Although bingo provides much needed funds for many charitable organizations, under the present law the potential for organized crime does exist.

The ERA still attracts attention but the emotional level is much lower than last year. The Senate Privileges and Elections Committee killed ERA by a 8 to 7 vote. Delegate Dorothy S. McDiarmid of Fairfax followed this defeat with a House motion to discharge the House Privileges and Elections Committee which has continuously defeated the ERA and have the issue considered on the House floor. The motion was defeated by a vote of 52-42. Thus the prospects for passage of ERA appear extremely dim for this year.

In keeping with the popular desire to end massive state regulation, House Bill 276 (which ex empts church day care centers from certain state regulation) passed its crucial second reading and is expected to pass its third. The church facilities must meet state fire and safety regulations but they are exempt from other state regulations. Further regulations would be detrimental, for economic reasons, to non-profit day care centers.

C. W. Anderson (D-Buckingham) has also proposed legislation that would decrease state regulations for Volunteer Rescue Squads. Again such regulations are too great a burden on these services and tend to defeat the purpose of a Volunteer Rescue Squad.

While the House has already dealt with a lot of legislation, the delegate's job has just begun.

Kindergarten Class Makes Bird Feeders

While making bird feeders (a winter project) from pine cones, bird seed, sunflower seeds, and peanut butter, the children learned through their five senses to feel, smell, and taste different textures.

Other objectives for the class project included practicing good conservation habits, and learning about weather and its effect on animals.

Farmers Bank Presented Awards To Owners of Top Performing Bulls

Last Saturday at the Red House Bull Evaluation Center Senior Bull Sale, Jim Pugh, representing Farmers National Bank, presented awards to owners of the top performing bulls. To be eligible there must be at least ten bulls of a particular breed on test. This is the first year that there have been three breeds receiving awards.

Mrs. Paul Zimmerman, Sugarfoot Farm, Lexington, Virginia, top photo, had the top performing Simmental bull. This bull weighed 609 pounds at 205 days of age, gained an average 4 pounds per day while on test and weighed 1189 pounds at a year of age. Mrs. Zimmerman is the first lady to receive an award.

The top Angus award went to Floyd Dominy, Bellevue Farm, Boyce, Virginia, center photo. This bull weighed 624 pounds at weaning, gained 3.35 pounds a day on test and weighed 1,067 pounds at a year old.

James Bennett, owner of Knoll Crest Farm, bottom photo, collected two awards--one for the top performing polled Hereford bull and the other for the top performing group of bulls. Bennett had a consignment of nine bulls in the test. His top performing bull weighed 676 at weaning, gained 3.82 pounds a day while on the 140 day test and had a yearling weight of 1261 pounds.

The 26 polled Hereford bulls averaged $1595, 1 Horned Hereford brought $1200, 8 Simmentals averaged $1759, 1 Charolais brought $1200 and 24 Angus averaged $1762. The 60 bulls brought $100,250 for an average price of $1670.

The top selling bulls were $2700 Simmental, $2625 Angus and two polled Hereford brought $2500 each.

Only one bull brought less than $1200.

Two Appomattox Cattlemen purchased bulls - - L. E. Anderson and John O. Harrison.
